Summer Reading:

With summer upon us, so much beckons: the beach, the ice-cream stand, the family outings. We expect reading is a part of your summer, too. To keep sailing in the right direction, think about your summer reading goals & your Someday List - summer is the perfect time to read the books you always meant to read. Keep track of these titles as we will ask you to share them with us in September.

Have a wonderful summer. We look forward to seeing you in the fall.

Sincerely,

The Seventh Grade Team & World Language Teachers
